Year's Events

Registration

August of 1975 saw the university record its 50th Fall Registration. Members of that first class of 1925 would hardly recognize today's computer based registration procedure.

Despite improvements over the years, however, little seems to change about registration. Though a much speedier process these days, registration remained for 1975-76, another of the boring, but entirely necessary, facets of life at Southeastern.

Long days' work completed, new books in hand, and yet other groups of students were off, with new resolution, to a new round of classes.

Sorority Rush

The welcoming atmosphere of the Panhellenic party and the warm casualness of the informal parties opened sorority rush. The secluded intimacy of the theme parties and the decisions at the preference parties added to that fun, maddening time known as sorority rush.

The potential pledge began to learn something about sorority life at the theme parties. Then followed the preference parties where rushees went to list first and second choices.

Finally, on that exciting day, bids were issued amid the cheers of members and pledges alike. The pledge had found her place in a new circle of intimate friends.

Fraternity Rush

Southeastern's seven social fraternities were again busy during the first two weeks of the Fall and Spring semesters "rushing" potential members.

For openers, the Greek organizations placed booths in the Student Union Mall displaying the fraternity's achievements over the past several years. Trophies, girl friends, pictures, and enthusiastic talk marked the booths.

Real recruiting, however, was reserved for the "keggers" and suppers. At these gatherings, which were held almost nightly throughout "rush," future Greeks were given an opportunity to explore the various organizations and select the one that most nearly fit their personal needs.

Following the rounds of parties, bids were issued and yet another group of young collegians were inducted into the Greek system.

Class Elections

Apathy again marked the annual Fall ritual known as class officer elections. Less than 500 students cast ballots in the elections which were devoid of issues.

Freshman and sophomore office seekers generally livened up the contest. Some banners did flutter in the hot September air, and election day was marked by candidates seeking support from passersby in the Student Union area.

Each class elected a president, vice-president, treasurer, secretary, commuter senator and sweetheart. Run-off elections were required in a few of the races.

The Student Government Association sponsored the class officer balloting.

Homecoming 1975

Petite, auburn haired beauty Janice Irwin reigned as Queen of Homecoming for 1975. The junior from Metairie was elected to the honor by her fellow students in balloting conducted by the Student Government Association.

Chosen as maids for the 1975 Homecoming court were: Beryl Brannon of New Orleans; Joy Chambers of Baton Rouge; Patti Thompson of Metairie; Susan Barrett of New Concord, Ohio; Ida Sonnier of Port Sulphur; and Marlene Helmers of New Orleans.

The queen and her court were featured on a special float in the Homecoming Parade. As a highlight of the afternoon's football game, Miss Irwin and her court were officially presented. Escorting the court on the field were members of Kappa Delta Tau fraternity.

Miss Irwin was honored again at the Alumni Association's Homecoming dance where she was officially crowned as Queen of the 1975 Homecoming festival.

Homecoming Pageantry

Color, pageantry, fun and excitement were hallmarks of the Homecoming celebration.

The campus was decorated extensively to honor returning graduates. In addition to decorations provided by the residence halls, a number of academic departments prepared special Homecoming displays.

Participants in the Student Activities Board sponsored window painting contest decorated the huge plate glass windows of the Student Union Building.

The annual Homecoming parade, planned and sponsored by Alpha Omicron Pi social sorority, was a highlight of Homecoming weekend.

Top entries in the parade included the float built by the St. Albert's Student Board, which was judged "Most Original;" Delta Tau Delta's float which copped the "Most Beautiful" prize; and Delta Omicron's "Most Beautiful Car" entry.

Winning floats were brought into Strawberry Stadium where they added color to the Homecoming Football game.

Homecoming Excitement

The campus was alive for Homecoming '75! This year's observance of homecoming was attended by the largest crowds ever—and more activities were offered than before.

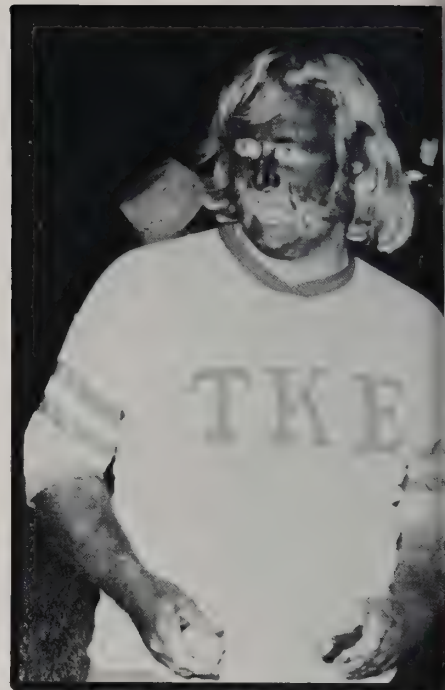

The Alumni Association, with much assistance from student organizations, sponsored numerous activities which added up to a busy week for all.

In addition to the traditional bonfire, dormitory displays, homecoming parade, and football game, there were other special events.

For the sports minded, there was a golf tournament, tennis tournament, "night at the races," and a bass tournament.

As usual, the Alumni House was headquarters for the celebration. At the Homecoming Luncheon, outstanding alumni, distinguished faculty, and special friends of the University were honored.

In short, Homecoming 1975 was a grand reunion for those who cherish Southeastern and the memories their alma mater evokes.

Bandstand USA

Over 600 students turned out for the third annual "Bandstand USA" sponsored by the ROTC Cadet Corps.

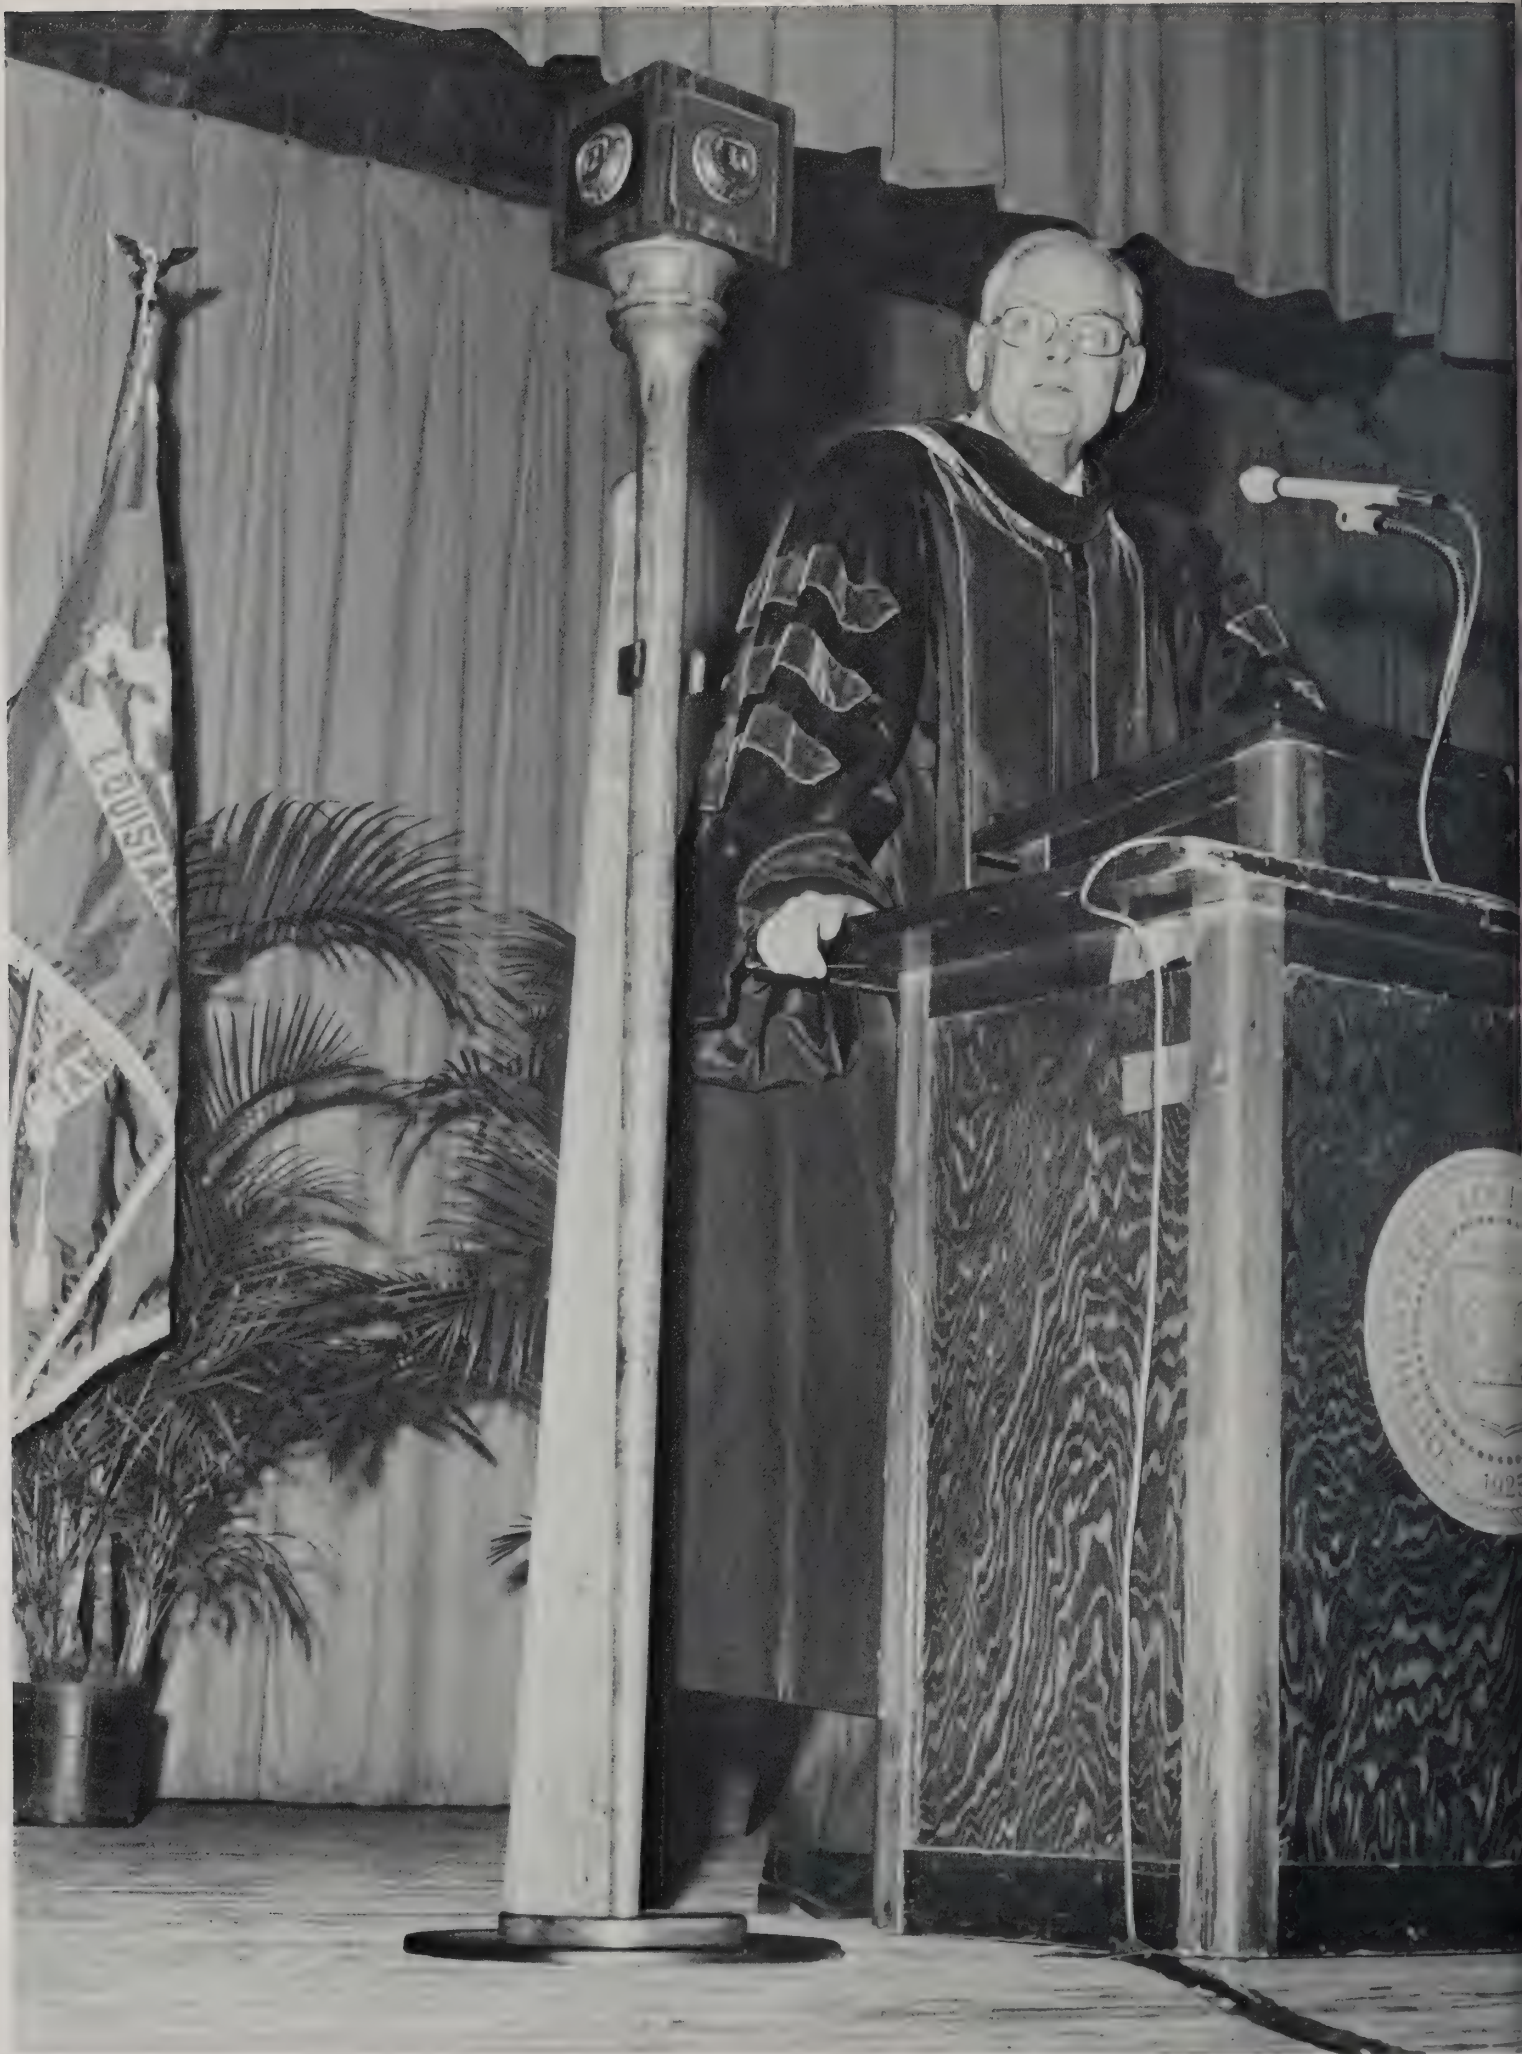

The late Fifties hop, a takeoff on the popular TV show American Bandstand, was a masterfully coordinated affair complete with "Click Clark;" Top Ten Board; dancing; best dressed and trivia contests; the Limbo rock; song pantomimes; and Rate-A-Record.

Pony-tailed girls with bobby sox and saddle oxford shoes danced the "twist" with guys wearing leather jackets and sporting duck-tails resplendent with "greasy kid stuff."

Students cheered as their favorite songs of the era were introduced by "Click Clark" who added tidbits of information about the early rock and roll artists.

Honors Convocation

Southeastern Louisiana University honored its outstanding students at the annual Honors Convocation, one of the highlights of the Fall Semester.

Honored at the Convocation were students on a sophomore level or above who have maintained a "B" or better average; members of the Thirteen Club, Southeastern's own honor society; and members of Phi Kappa Phi national honor society.

Guest speaker for the gathering was Dr. John C. Stevens, president of Abilene Christian College.

A record number of students were honored at the Convocation which was followed by a social reception for the honorees, members of their families, and friends.

Best Dressed Coed

Miss Marlene Hellmers, a sophomore from New Orleans, claimed the title "Best Dressed and Most Outstanding Co-ed at Southeastern." The contest, sponsored by Student Government Association, attracted over 30 contestants. Miss Hellmers represented Southeastern in GLAMOUR MAGAZINE'S annual search for the nation's top ten best dressed and most outstanding collegiate co-eds.

The entrants were judged in two outfits, one appropriate for campus wear and the other for off-campus outings. Contestants were also judged on their poise and ability to answer questions posed by the judges, as well as their amount of involvement in campus activities.

Named as finalists in the pageant were: Sally Ott, of Baton Rouge, first runner-up; Gwen Smith, also of Baton Rouge, second runner-up; Suzanne Caldwell, of Gretna, third runner-up; and Lisa Stevens, of Hammond, fourth runner-up.

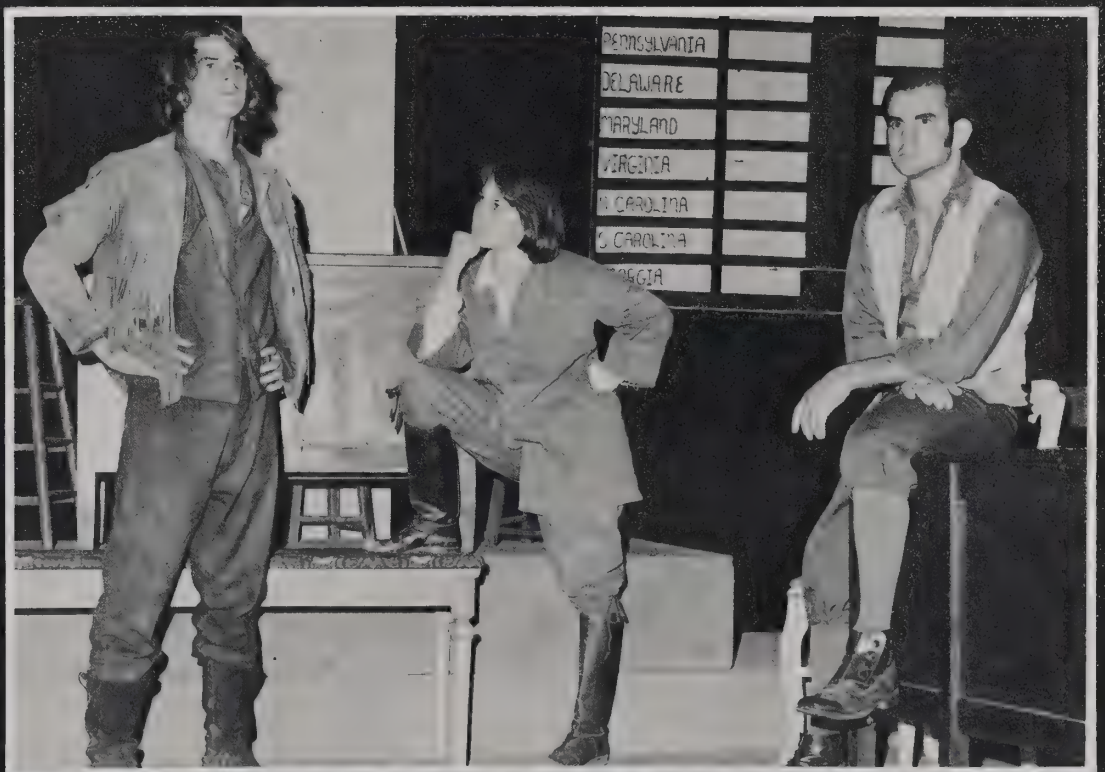

"1776"

The musical "1776," a re-telling in song of the signing of the Declaration of Independence, was the smash stage hit of both the summer and fall semesters for 1975. Originally staged during the summer, "1776" proved to be so popular that it was repeated during the fall semester "by popular demand."

Sellout crowds were the trade mark for "1776," a production which earned plaudits from practically all who saw the show.

The musical was presented through the joint efforts of the Department of Music and the Department of Speech and Drama. "1776" ushered in the 1975-76 theatre season on campus and was a particularly appropriate selection during the nation's bicentennial year.

The Last of Mrs. Lincoln

The tragedy that befell Mrs. Abraham Lincoln following the assassination of her husband was vividly recreated on the SLU stage with the Fall production of James Prideaux's "The Last of Mrs. Lincoln."

This historically accurate retelling of Mrs. Lincoln's story was ably directed by Mrs. Vonnie Borden.

Mary Ann Speck, who played the role of "Mrs. Lincoln," contributed a strong lead to the production.

The Devil's Disciple

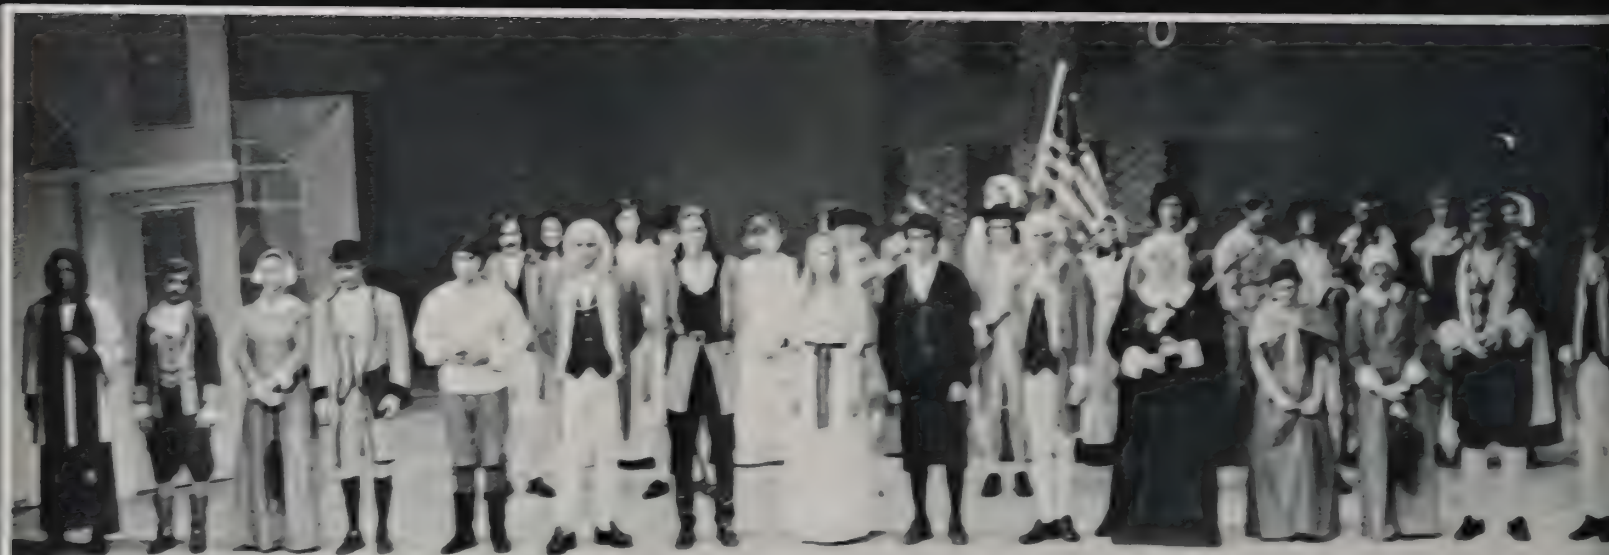

The flavor of the American Revolution was brought to the Southeastern stage with the production of George Bernard Shaw's melodrama, "The Devil's Disciple."

"The Devil's Disciple," one of Shaw's best known melodramas, is set against the backdrop of the Revolution. The tale, one of love, honor and derring-do, was played with much energy and enthusiasm by the Southeastern actors and actresses.

This exciting story, a retelling of the conflict between Rebels and Redcoats and how that conflict affected the lives of the citizens of New England, emphasized Southeastern Theatre's theme for the year, "An American Profile."

Playing roles in the drama were: Tim McGowan, Nancy Robert, James Perilloux, Troy Sibley, Sharon Goff, Sheliah Sirgo, John Lanning, Ellis Pisciotto, Teresa Schnupp, Patsy Fleming, Charles Morse, Barry Fleming, V. C. Catalanatto, and Jay Hathaway.

Dr. Luther Wade was the show's director.

The Women

A highlight of the 1975-76 theatrical season at Southeastern was the spectacular production of Clare Booth Luce's comedy, "The Women." Originally written in the 1930's, the story is about the world's wealthy women, and the many complications in their lives.

The show's director, Dr. Anna Deanne Teague, set the play in the 1970's to lend more relevance to the characterization of "jet set" women.

The beautifully directed comedy sported an all female cast—a first for the SLU stage.

Members of the cast were: Terry Coleman, Carolyn Stephens, Teri Schnupp, Carol Bauerle, Cara Klieger, Gina Montalbano, Diane Loupe, Biddie Griffith, Patsy Fleming, Karen Arthur and Crystal Threeton.

Also, Linda Montgomery, Liesa Smith, Evelyn Holloway, Lorrie Schneider, Beth Shamburger, Susan Anglada, Rhonda Alessi, Karen Sibley, Helen Sinagra, Malka Alberts, and Myra Catalanatto.

Captain Lovelock And Gallantry

A musical highlight of the Fall semester was the presentation of "An Evening of Musical Comedy" by the SLU Music Theatre. Directing the program was Franklin Summers.

Featured were the short operas, "Captain Lovelock" by Ludvig Holberg, and "Gallantry," a spoof on a television soap opera.

In the casts for the two operas were: David Askegren, John Vernon, Rebecca Causey, Alan Gentiles, Melodye Curtis, Sharon Goff, Kathy Ellis, Donna Carney, and Theresa Ballard.

Merry Wives Of Windsor

The musical version of William Shakespeare's "The Merry Wives of Windsor" was the Spring offering of the Southeastern Music Theatre.

Franklin Summers was director of the show which was produced with full costumes and orchestra. Dr. Robert Weatherly conducted the orchestra.

Leading cast members included Jeffery Wells who played the role of the jolly, would-be suitor, "Falstaff," and Judy Krogsgard, Mary Beth McMurray, Donna Carney, Kathy Ellis, John Vernon, Fred Richards, Gordon Jeansonne, Jude Wilson, Alan Gentiles and Carlo Giaccone.

General Lectures And Concerts

Five productions were included in the 1975-76 General Lectures and Concerts Series sponsored annually by the University.

Entertaining enthusiastic audiences during the year were: the Rhode Island Dance Repertory Company; actress and mime Stephanie Rich; violinist Mark Kaplan; the Concordia Choir; and the New Shakespeare Company.

Highly acclaimed violinist Mark Kaplan, one of the nation's finest young violinists, presented a virtuoso performance in the University Auditorium. A national prize winner for his prowess on the violin, Kaplan performed brilliantly for Southeastern's music devotees.

Miss Stephanie Rich recreated the eccentric and notorious Sarah Bernhardt in her one-woman show. A student of famed French mime Marcel Marceau, she offered a brilliant creation, "Echoes Of," which reflected her training under the French master.

Not merely a choir but a national distinction, the Concordia Choir, Moorhead, Minn., brought to Southeastern one of the greatest a cappella sounds in the nation. The Concordia Choir, which has played to audiences around the world, presented selections which covered the history of choral music back to the time of Bach. The 67 voice choir received high acclaim from Southeastern's audience for its magnificent performance.

Two of the year's most popular General Lectures and Concerts Series offerings were productions by the Rhode Island Dance Company and The New Shakespeare Company of San Francisco.

The eight-member Rhode Island Dance Company combined narration and movement with ingenious creativity in their Southeastern performance. The show was inventive, visually appealing and intrinsically beautiful.

The New Shakespeare Company of San Francisco presented William Shakespeare's "As You Like It" to a delighted audience. The play was delivered much as Shakespeare's works were offered in old England. The Company seeks through its productions, to return Shakespeare to the rambunctious throngs who, in the 1590's, "paid their penny to sit in the pit and be entertained."

Employing colorful sets, enchanting costumes, and thorough professionalism, the Company brought the Southeastern audience to its feet with applause numerous times during the memorable show.

Globetrotters

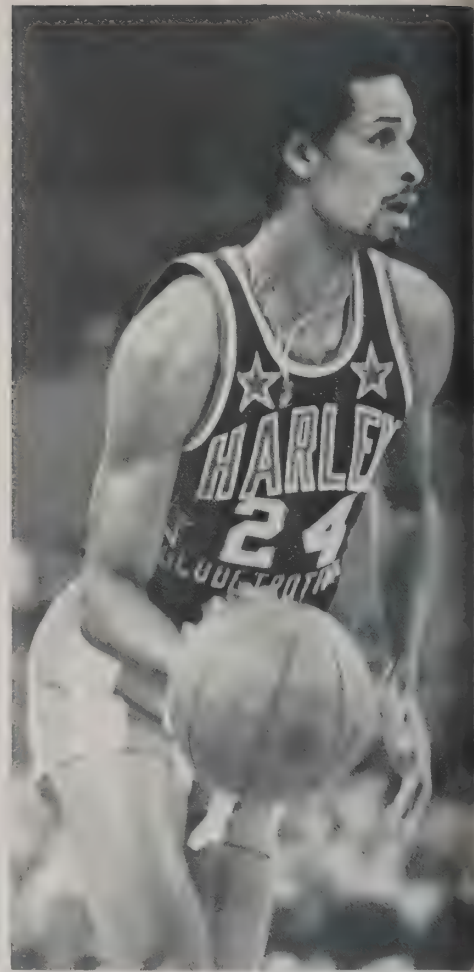

The universal appeal of the Harlem Globetrotters was proven once again when the "clown princes of basketball" brought their special entertainment magic to the campus of Southeastern.

The show, sponsored by the Student Activities Board, attracted an appreciative audience composed of SLU students and Globetrotter fans of all ages from surrounding communities.

The usual Globetrotter antics, now familiar to the millions who have seen the group either in person or on television, still managed to evoke laughter and applause from the Southeastern audience.

Now celebrating their 50th anniversary, the Globetrotters continue to blend perfectly both real basketball talent and comedic expertise. Perhaps what makes all Globetrotter performances so popular is the fact that the men on the court always treat their fans as if they were something special. They want people to enjoy the evening as much as they do—and their fun is contagious. The Southeastern audience signaled its approval of the show with rousing applause when the act came to an end.

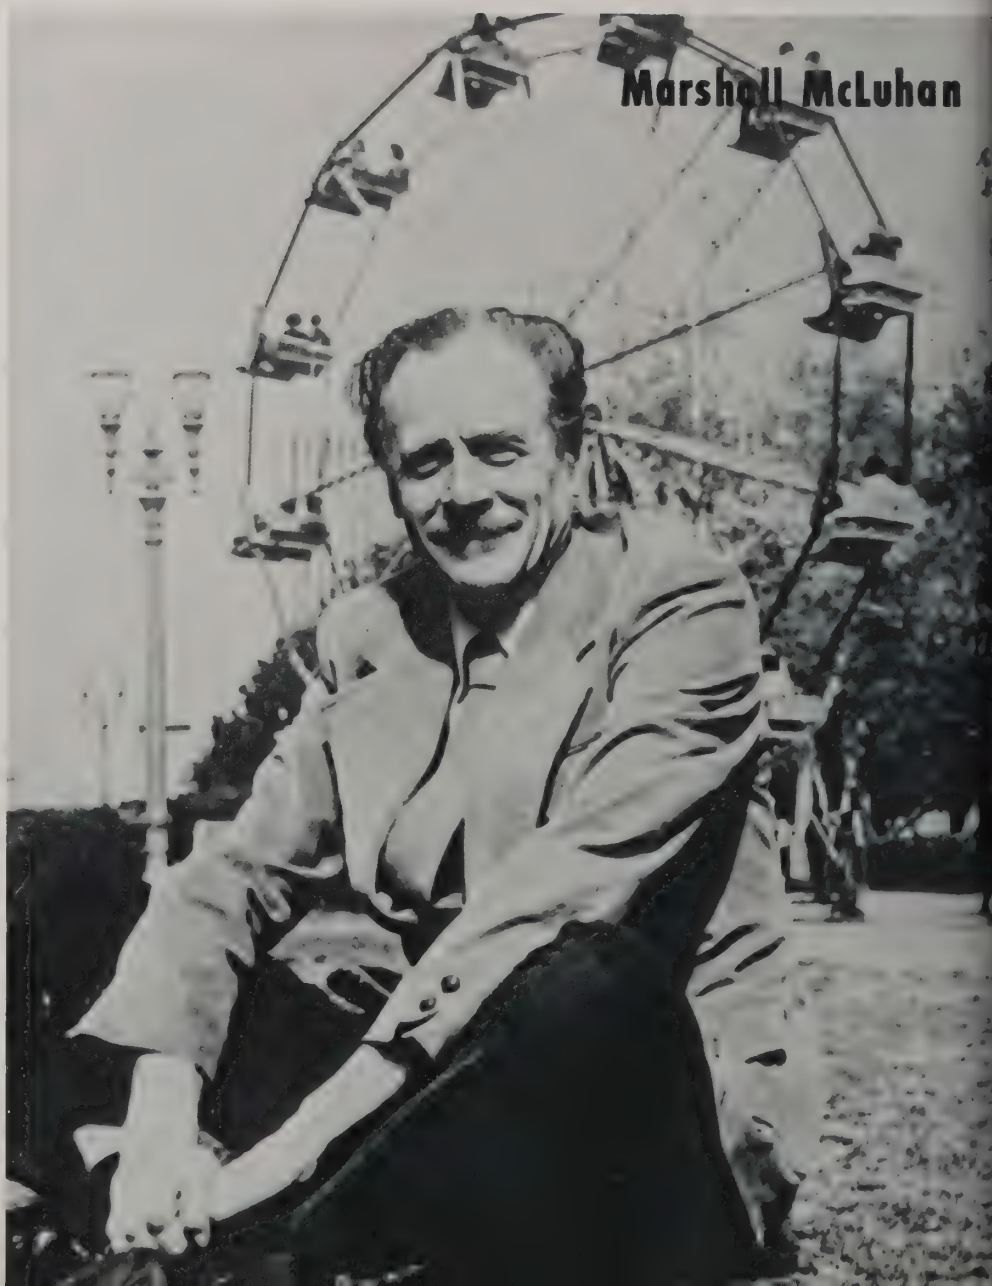

Crowd Pleasers

Three stimulating, creative individuals, all specialists in widely different fields, captivated Southeastern audiences at performances during the 1975-76 school year.

Singer and social commentator Arlo Guthrie, a pop song writer with deep roots in American folk music, entertained as part of the Student Activities Board's Big Name entertainment series. Guthrie laced his musical program with pointed observations about today's students.

Also a Student Activities Board highlight was sponsorship of the visit of famed anthropologist Margaret Mead to the campus. The delightful 75-year-old author and lecturer traced the recent history of the American university movement in her speech heard by a "standing room only" crowd.

Marshall McLuhan, a prolific writer who made the word "media" a household one through his many books published over the last two decades, spoke on "Why Johnny Can't Read" to a large Southeastern audience. McLuhan's visit to the campus was part of Southeastern's expanding program in the humanities.

Margaret Mead

Up With People

A rambunctious, enthusiastic group of beautiful young entertainers, otherwise known as "Up With People" performers, entertained a small, but highly enthusiastic crowd early in the Spring Semester.

Sponsored by the Student Activities Board, the "Up With People" show featured the talents of over 50 college-age performers who sang, danced and laughed their way into the hearts of the Southeastern audience.

The group's fast paced, action packed show moved rapidly from number to number leaving the audience stunned with the liveliness and beauty of it all. Audience participation was a big factor in the show's success, and hand clapping and toe tapping were the order of the night.

The "Up With People" performers offered selections which reflected a deep optimism in the youth of the nation and the world. The well chosen songs were pointed and moving and called for a rededication to "... people, the best sort of folks to know!"

University Dancers Spring Concert

The University Dancers, SLU's modern dance group, presented a specially commissioned ballet at the annual Spring Concert. The ballet, "Owaisee and the Witch," was choreographed by Mrs. Katie-Planche Friedrichs, dance director. Original music for the ballet was composed by Robert Priez of the Music faculty.

The ballet was commissioned by area Bicentennial committees.

"Feet of Clay," choreographed by Eleanor Durham; and "Wake Up America: A Time for Decision," choreographed by Ann Bentz, were other ballets presented at the concert.

Monkey Business

For the second straight year, the Southeastern community was treated to a live Marx Brothers inspired show. This year's production, entitled "Monkey Business," brought back memories of the zany Marx brand of comedy so popular with earlier generations.

Sponsoring the show was the Student Activities Board. Moving force behind the comedy was Wayne Weidig who served as director and producer.

Weidig was ably assisted by a host of Marx Brothers buffs who spent long hours on the original production.

Performances, staged in the Mathematics Building Auditorium, were well attended by enthusiastic audiences.

SGA Elections

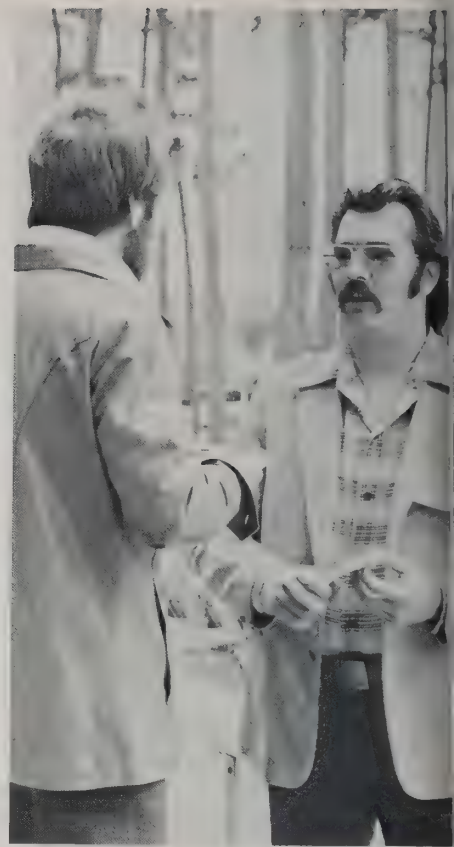

Student Government Association elections elicited considerable attention during the Spring Semester.

As a preliminary to the regular election of officers, students were first asked to vote on a new constitution which radically changed the SGA officer and Student Senate structure. Major provisions of the new constitution were elimination of the Coed Vice-President position and reapportionment of the Senate. Senators are now elected by academic departments instead of by organizations as was provided for in the old constitution.

Elections to the post of SGA President and Vice-President brought out a rather large field with four candidates filing for each post. After initial balloting, and a run-off, Robin Passman was elected SGA President and Pat Edwards was elected as SGA Vice-President.

During the same election, students voted in favor of a new self-assessment fee structure. The chief issue in this referendum was a considerable increase in self-assessment for Big Name Entertainment.

Strawberry Jubilee

The annual Strawberry Jubilee, a day-long event featuring two of Louisiana's favorite dishes—Tangipahoa Parish's famed strawberries and a traditional favorite, red beans and rice—attracted thousands. Lines quickly formed on the lawn near the Student Union Building as members of the Student Activities Board, sponsors of the event, began to dish out the free food to all comers.

A highlight of the festival was a huge, beautiful cake elaborately decorated with a Bicentennial motif. Thousands of slices were served from the cake which dominated the scene.

Besides the food, Jubilee participants were treated to an arts and crafts fair. Artisans of many different persuasions set up tables displaying their wares which were on sale for nominal prices.

Cold weather forced the cancellation of a promised attraction—the Dunk-A-Professor booth.

Jubilee Final

Warming things up, in addition to the spicy red beans, were rock groups. Rock music boomed out from a portable bandstand during the afternoon's activities. This was just a warm-up session, however, as the day ended with four bands playing to a large crowd in Cefalu Coliseum. The "battle of the bands" had toes tapping until late in the night.

Heading the day's extensive planning and much of the work involved was Beth Winter, Student Activities Board President and a prime mover of such activities. A small army of volunteers, coordinated through the Office of Student Development, assured a smooth, orderly, day's worth of entertainment. The Strawberry Jubilee once again gave indications of becoming a permanent, traditional fixture at Southeastern.

Rodeo

Fierce rodeo action returned to the campus during the Spring Semester when the annual SLU Rodeo Club sponsored event got underway in Cefalu Coliseum.

Featured the first night of the rodeo were collegiate competitors. On the second and third nights of the event, professional cowboys and cowgirls of the Tri-State Rodeo Association competed for cash, trophies and belt buckles.

Events included in rodeo competition were bareback riding, saddle bronc riding, bull riding, calf roping, steer wrestling and team roping for the men, and barrel racing, goat tying and break away calf roping for the women.

Debbie Vybiral reigned as queen of the rodeo and was featured in the big rodeo parade which kicked off the three days of rugged competition.

The Lion In Winter

Southeastern speech and theatre student Rick White directed a special production of "The Lion In Winter" during the Spring Semester.

"The Lion In Winter" recalled the days of kings and castles in France during the 12th Century.

The production, not a part of the regular Southeastern Theatre season, afforded White an opportunity to demonstrate his directing talents.

Members of the cast were: Chuck Morse, Paulette Populis, Mike Smith, Tim McGowan, Kelly Barber, Curtis Holly, Susan Barrett, Lisa Ordoyne, Bob Mathes, and David Hughes.

Leisure Learnin

Leisure Learning is a non-credit program with the concept of extra-curricular or informal education as its primary purpose. Using a non-structured approach provides a learning environment based on the assumption that all of life's experiences constitute a person's education.

The Leisure Learning program was instituted at Southeastern Louisiana University in the latter part of October 1974. Some of the programs to date include "Three Dimensional Decoupage," "Shirt Painting," "Rubout Painting," "Coke Bottle Dolls," "Weapons Safety and Marksmanship," "Bass Fishing," "Corsage Making," "Flower Arranging," "Sand Sculpture," "Camera Operating," and others.

The Leisure Learning Class receives its program conceptions from student input on a one-to-one basis, and from faculty and staff members who perceive a need or an interest in that particular area.

The program is coordinated by Howard Farrell, Director of Student Development.

MINUTEMEN TO THE MINUTEMAN

Military Ball

Miss Gretchen Smith of Mandeville reigned over the annual Military Ball. The ball, sponsored by the U. S. Army ROTC Corps, is an annual social highlight on campus.

Miss Smith was chosen as the Corps' sweetheart by the ROTC cadets and will represent the corps during the 1976-77 school year.

Elected to Company Sponsor positions were Miss Clara Laciura and Miss Monica McCord.

Theme of the 1976 Military Ball was "Minutemen to the Minuteman," reflecting the dramatic change in military capability militiamen of 200 years ago to today's modern officer.

The corps entertained many guests, including parents, friends and university officials. Following the usual pageantry which marks the ball, the crowning of the sweetheart and the skits performed by the cadets, those attending enjoyed hours of dancing.

RHA Carnival

A brand new social event was added to the Southeastern calendar during the Spring Semester when the Residence Hall Association held its first Carnival.

The Carnival held at the Pavilion, attracted hundreds of students who enjoyed a variety of games and activities.

Among the attractions were: Tucker Hall's Dunking Booth; the Greased Rope Climb; Livingston Hall's Jail; performance by the BSU Choir; Southeastern Hall's Concessions Booth. Each added to the Carnival spirit and atmosphere.

The day was filled with much activity which afforded students, faculty and staff an opportunity to join together for fun and fellowship.

Miss SLU

Miss Lauren Hall of Mandeville, a blue-eyed, redhaired beauty, was selected the new "Miss Southeastern" at the annual SGA sponsored pageant which is traditionally a social highlight of the Spring Semester.

First runner-up in the pageant was Miss Donna Pope of McNeill, Miss. Miss Pope captured the "Most Talented" title. Other top finishers in the pageant, which attracted 14 contestants, were: Miss Terri McCrary of Denham Springs, second runner-up; Miss Marlene Hellmers of New Orleans, third runner-up; and Miss Barbara Carrier of Amite, fourth runner-up.

Miss Denise Blankenship of Hammond, La., was chosen by her co-contestants as "Miss Congeniality."

Southeastern Louisiana University passed a historic landmark with the 1976 Spring Commencement—the 50th anniversary of the school's first graduation which was held in 1926.

Guest speaker for the Spring Commencement was Charles Roemer II, the state's commissioner of administration and governor's executive assistant.

Winning President's Medals for Academic Excellence at the Spring ceremony were: Phyllis Puglia, Lynette Mire, Stephanie Fournet, Ruby Gail Wise and Cheryl Bush.

Guest speaker for the 1975 Winter Commencement was Chancellor Paul W. Murrill of Louisiana State University's Baton Rouge campus.

Winning President's Medals for Academic Excellence at the Winter commencement were: Ginger Buratt, Mary Biernacki, Barbara Falgoust, and Beverly Whitehead.

Student Government Association

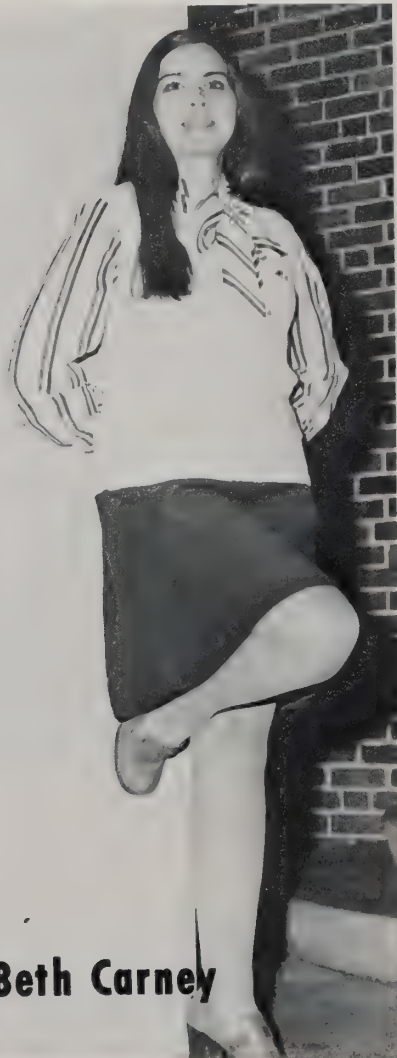

Student Government Association activities for scholastic year 1975-76 were marked by an effort to expand existing programs and initiate new ones.

Under the leadership of President Gary Sandifer, along with Vice-President Robin Passman and Co-ed Vice President Beth Carney, the writing of a new constitution was continued; the Student Discount Program was expanded; and investigations into expansion of the Student Union were continued.

Additionally, the SGA was involved in such areas as dormitory visitation programs and the securing of more legal services for students.

Students also achieved a loud voice in local government through SGA efforts. SGA was active in pushing for ordinances limiting the amount of time a train can block local crossings. A candidate's forum was sponsored by SGA affording students opportunity to meet and hear all and state politicians.

Lionettes

Providing that extra touch of sparkle at Southeastern's halftime shows are the Lionettes, a group of beautiful and talented coeds chosen for the squad on the basis of poise, talent, and beauty.

The dancers and twirlers not only perform at football halftime shows, but also serve the university as hostesses at various functions and make appearances at area fairs, festivals and parades.

Choreographer for the group during the 1975-76 school year was senior Candy Crocker of Alvarado, Tex. Head majorette was Lisa Stevens of Hammond.

Directing the Lionettes was Miss Barbara Anderson who has been the inspiration behind the beautiful half-time performances for a number of years.

Members of the Lionettes literally "put their best foot forward" through their contributions to the university.

Cheerleaders

Pep, energy and enthusiasm all describe Southeastern's cheerleading corps. The group began its work with an exhaustive training at summer camp, and remained busy throughout the year cheering the university's athletic teams to victory.

In addition to on-field and on-court performances, the group also sponsored numerous pep rallies which attracted large, enthusiastic groups of students.

The 1975-76 cheerleaders distinguished themselves at summer camps, winning several awards.

Members of the squad were Marilyn LeBlanc (head cheerleader), Gwen Addison, Carol Broom, Donna Pope, Patty Whittington, Drew Friedrichs, Lynn Roberts, Ronnie Horn, Nelson Muhoberas, and Bruce Kennedy.

Sponsoring the cheerleaders was the Office of Student Development.

The Lion's Roar

Keeping the Southeastern community informed on important happenings around the campus is "The Lion's Roar," official voice of the university's student body.

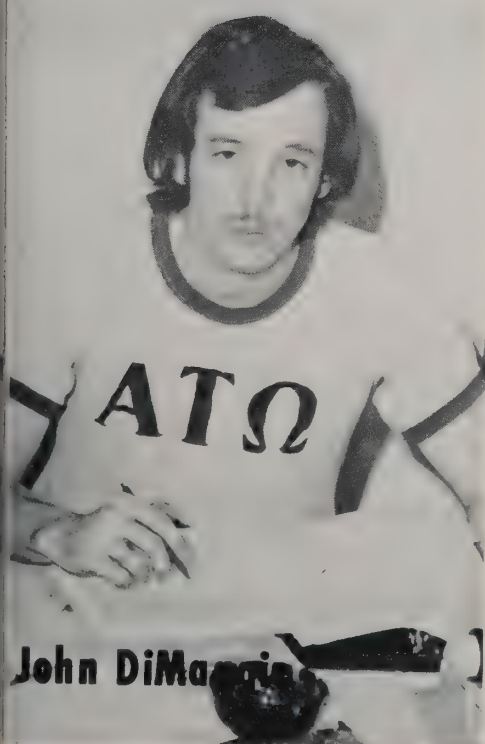

Published weekly during regular semesters, and every other week during the summer session, "The Lion's Roar" chronicles major happenings on the campus.

"The Lion's Roar" offers its readers general news, editorial pages and comments, club and organizational news, feature stories, and coverage of campus sports events.

Staffing "The Lion's Roar" are students who are either minoring in journalism, or who have an interest in writing and the dissemination of news.

During the 1975-76 scholastic year, the newspaper was guided by editors Peggy Watts (Fall) and Terry Berthelot, (Spring).

LeSouvenir

The editor and staff of the 1976 edition of "LeSouvenir" sincerely hope that the entire University community finds something special, something personally relevant in this volume. This is the 46th "LeSouvenir" to be published. Each of the books has meant something unique to those who saw their collegiate years reflected in the pages of their yearbook. It is our fond hope that as time passes on, and the years go by, this book, this souvenir of your years at Southeastern, will grow in value for you.

Theme of this year's "LeSouvenir" is "A New Beginning." This theme was chosen to reflect two important events: the passage of Southeastern's first 50 years, and the beginning of a new half-century of service; and the passage of the nation's first 200 years, and the beginning of new centuries as the world's greatest nation.

For those graduating, we hope this book favorably reflects your last year at the University, and serves to remind you of what this school has meant to you as you go on to your "New Beginning."

Editor of this year's "LeSouvenir" was Kathy Bauer, a senior majoring in Office Administration. Staff members were: Brian Zeringue, sports; Cora Poche, academics; Karen Russell, year's events; Ann Clement, organizations; Amy Erwin, Greeks; Jan Duncan, classes; and Shirley Woodard, beauties.

Dalmon McNair, director of publications, was faculty advisor.

The book was published by Hennington Publishing Co. of Wolfe City, Tex.

Another year of Southeastern's history has been compressed between two covers. Again, it is hoped that the editor and staff have done their job thoroughly. Many people have worked long, sometimes difficult hours to produce this book. Our chief reward will be your hearty acceptance of this, your 1976 "LeSouvenir."

KSLU

Educational radio station KSLU-FM is in its second year as an integral part of the Southeastern scene.

The radio station, which serves as a learning experience for speech and radio students, is also the official voice of the university. Student managers, directors, and disc jockeys man the station which broadcasts on weekdays.

John Wiles III was station manager for the two semesters. He was assisted by James Sorrels, program director, and Julio Guichard, news director.

Faculty advisor for the radio station was Jack Fisher of the Department of Speech and Theatre faculty.

Bright Spots Found In Not So "Super Season"

Weeks before the start of the 1975 football season, bumper stickers proclaiming "SLU Football, Super In '75" could be found displayed throughout the campus and Hammond area.

But the hopes of a championship season faded early for the football Lions and despite a strong finish SLU's once promising season became tarnished.

Never-the-less, Southeastern's 4-7 record was far from a total disappointment for second year head coach Billy Brewer.

"I'm as proud of this group as any that I have been associated with," commented Brewer at the conclusion of the season.

"They kept rising to the occasion each week and, in the toughest part of the schedule, played as well as you could ask," Brewer emphasized.

The Lions finished the second half of the season with a big road win over a division I school and after dropping three straight heartbreakers, ended the season on a winning note.

"The record was disappointing, but nobody can help the injuries and other things which hit this squad," Brewer continued. "We knew we were young coming into the season, but had hoped to work some people into playing time as the year progressed. However, we were forced to use some people faster than expected."

"You can't say enough about this group of players. They kept meeting the challenge, something they had to do all 11 weeks of the season. In that toughest part of our schedule—the last five games—we won two and played well in the other three, losing them by an average of a touchdown each," he added.

The SLU coach also had high praise for his coaches and seniors.

"Our coaches did a great job in keeping this club together and our seniors were tremendous in this aspect," Brewer concluded. "We hope they have established a trend which is to continue with our veterans."

Record setting efforts by Horace Belton and Orlando Gusman highlighted the Lions' final grid statistics.

Belton set two new Gulf South Conference records and Gusman tied one.

Along with the three GSC marks, the duo figured in four school records.

Belton finished his second straight 1,000-yard campaign by carrying the pigskin 245 times (a GSC mark) for 1,168 yards (GSC and SLU records). He scored 11 touchdowns to lead the Lions with 66 points.

Gusman set two new school records with 661 yards gained on pass receiving and seven touchdown catches, the latter figure also matching a GSC standard. The sophomore wide receiver ended the campaign with 3 catches, and was second on the team in scoring with 42 points.

Quarterback Don Griffin led the team in total offense with 1,261 yards, 1,034 of those coming through the air. His single season pass yardage mark was the third highest in SLU records.

Fullback Rogers Wilson was the Lions' second leading rusher for the second consecutive year, this time accumulating 480 yards. Wilson's figure pushed his career total to 1,011 yards. He was also the team's second leading receiver with seven catches for 70 yards.

Kicker Tommy Saia ended as the Lions third leading scorer, kicking for 30 points. Saia tied a school record by hitting 21 points after touchdowns. His two-year kick scoring count of 61 points was the second highest total in that category in SLU history.

Darnell Charrier had the most kick-off returns (22) and yards returned (455) while Herbie Williams owned the best return average, 21.8 in that department.

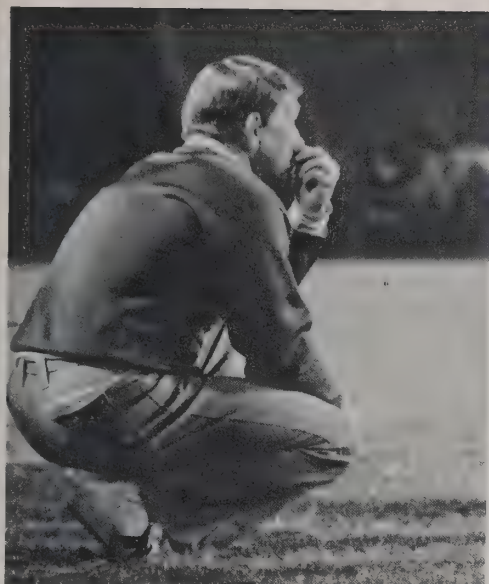

Freshman James Magrude finished strong to boost his final punting average to 37.7 yards per kick. Over the final four games, he averaged 40.9 yards a boot and had only six yards in returns.

Defensively, linebacker Mike Hornsby led the SLU defensive chart with a point total of 198 while defensive end Wayne Faul was next with 177. One of the most impressive figures was posted by freshman defensive end Perry Smith who totaled 91 points despite missing the first half of the season.

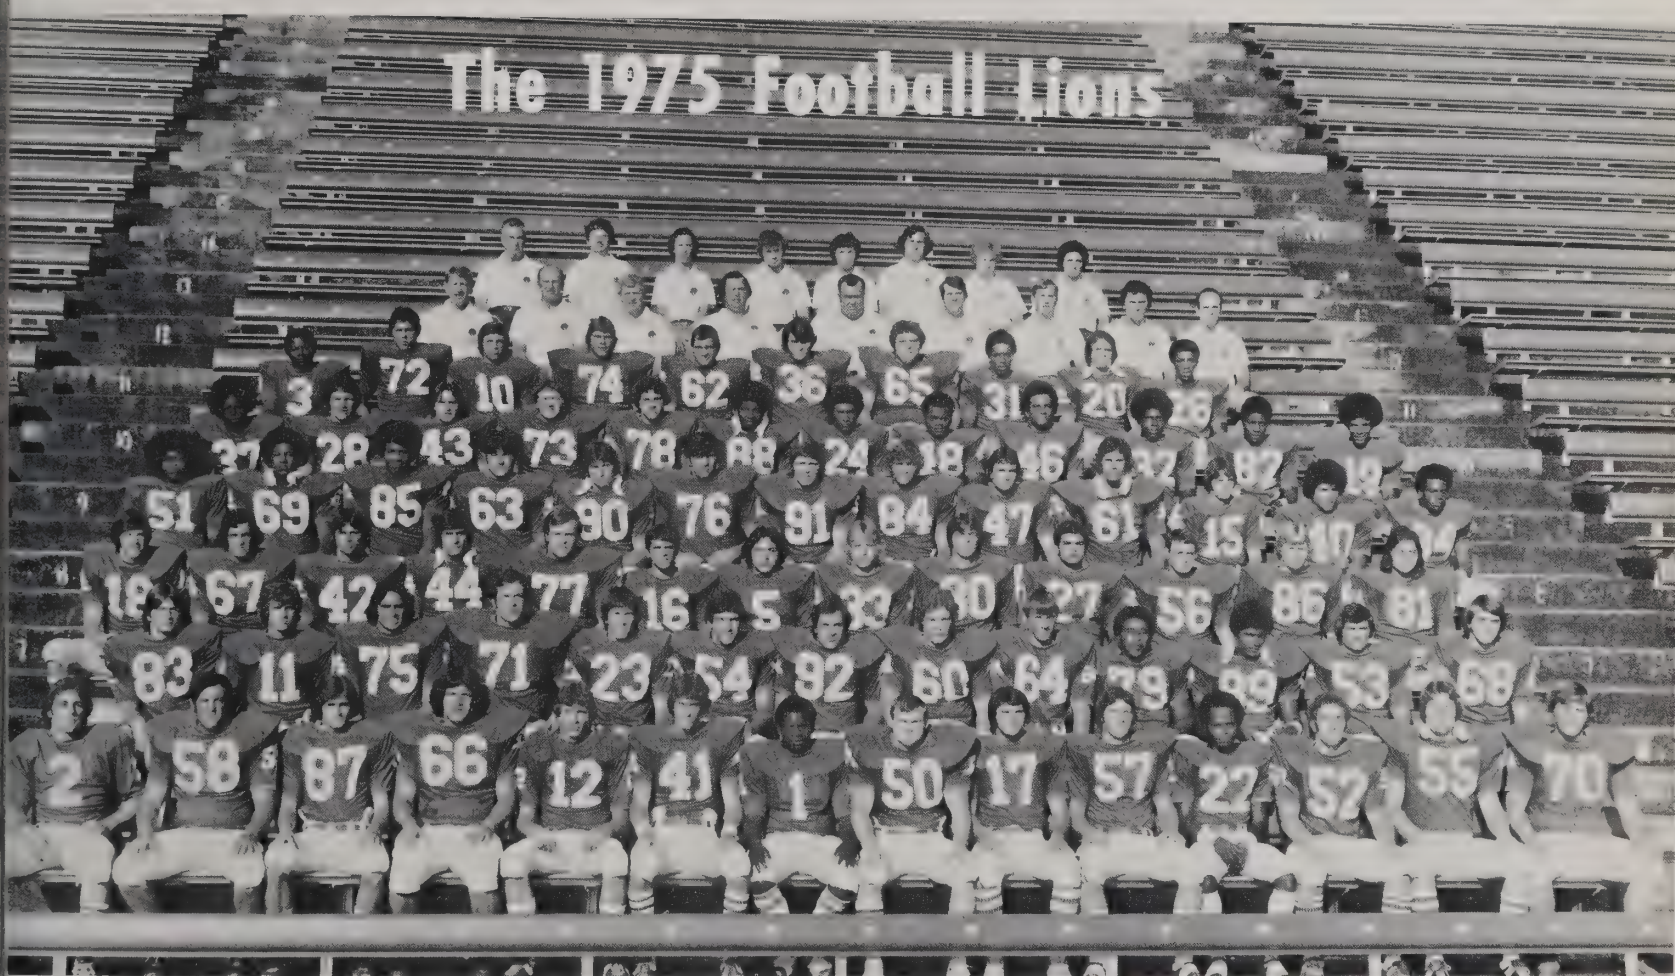

Nish Weddington led the Lions in interceptions for the second consecutive year, picking off four for 51 yards. Freshman Donald Dykes led the team in turnovers with two interceptions and four blocked kicks.

SLU's Basketball Fortunes Continue in 1975-76

That winning tradition established in each of the past three seasons continued in 1975-76 for SLU's basketball Lions.

It was like a roller coaster ride for second year head coach Ken Fortenberry and his ten member squad which rode the schedule to a 12-11 finish.

The Lions made an early bid in the race for the Gulf South Conference title winning five of their first six league games. Title hopes faded when SLU dropped four straight, later settling for a fourth place finish in the GSC.

Southeastern posted five victories over division I schools two of those coming in the very early part of the season.

A mid season surge in which SLU won six of eight contests was sandwiched between losing streaks of three and four games. But the Lions used a strong finish with three wins in the final four games including a victory in the season finale to push them over .500 for the fourth straight year.

Junior playmaker Leo McClure just missed setting a new school record and led the Lions in two statistical departments.

The 5'10" guard from Baton Rouge Central topped SLU in free throw shooting and in assists for the year.

McClure hit .778 from the charity line to lead the Lions in that department for the second straight year and dealt out 124 assists. That figure was two shy of the single season mark of 126 established in 1971-72 by Booker Young in 24 games. McClure's figure came in 22 games.

Senior Bruce Gilmore led the squad in scoring with 339 points and a 16.1 average. Gilmore's season total hiked his career mark to 927 points, good for seventh on the all-time SLU list.

Two other seniors also led individual categories for the Lions. Forward Dan Pieper edged junior Rusty Willis in field goal accuracy while center Mike Rance had a wide margin as the rebounder leader.

Pieper showed a .496 figure for the season, hitting 67 of 135 shots. Willis, who was also second in scoring with a 10.8 average, was right behind at .489.

Rance sported an 8.6 rebound mark for the campaign to lead the Lions with junior Melvin Smith next with a 5.6 average.

Gilmore, Pieper, and Rance were all four-year lettermen for SLU and the first group of seniors to finish their careers at Southeastern with winning seasons in each year. They helped the Lions compile a 62-39 record over that span.

Women's Program Gains National Recognition

Two all-Americans, a 30-2 record and a fifth place finish in the national AIAW small college tournament were among the major accomplishments recorded by the 1975-76 basketball Lady Lions.

SLU ended its campaign with a 30-2 record which included four straight wins in the consolation bracket of the national tournament after being upset in the opening round of the meet held in Ashland, Ohio.

"We were disappointed we did not finish number one, but are proud of the fact that the Lady Lions had the courage to bounce back and go out a winner," head coach Linda Puckett said. "Participating in the national tournament was a fantastic experience for our players."

The Lady Lions' 30-2 mark gives them a 52-4 record for two years of competition. Included in that span were two straight state championships and a regional title.

Sophomore Pam Cook and freshman Queen Brumfield became SLU's first female all-Americans after being honored at the conclusion of the tournament.

Cook and Brumfield, the first women cagers from Louisiana to achieve all-American status, were invited to participate in the regional Olympic trials held in Nashville, Tenn., during April.

SLU's 1975 volleyball squad found the road to success bumpy in the state AIAW tournament held in the fall at LSU in Baton Rouge.

The Lady Lions entered competition seeded number four with a 21-14 match play record. Hopes of a championship faded when eliminated in second round action.

Donna Terrebonne brought some glory to the squad's efforts for the season, being named to the 1975 all-state team.

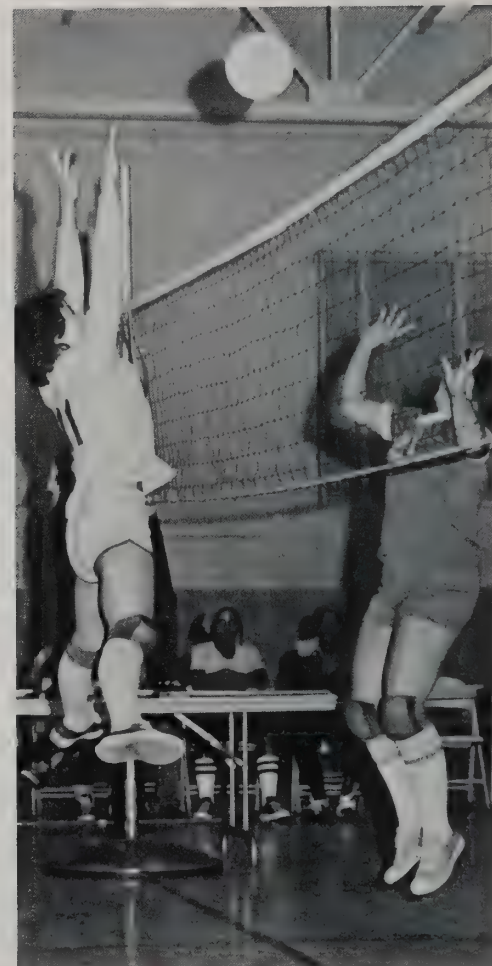

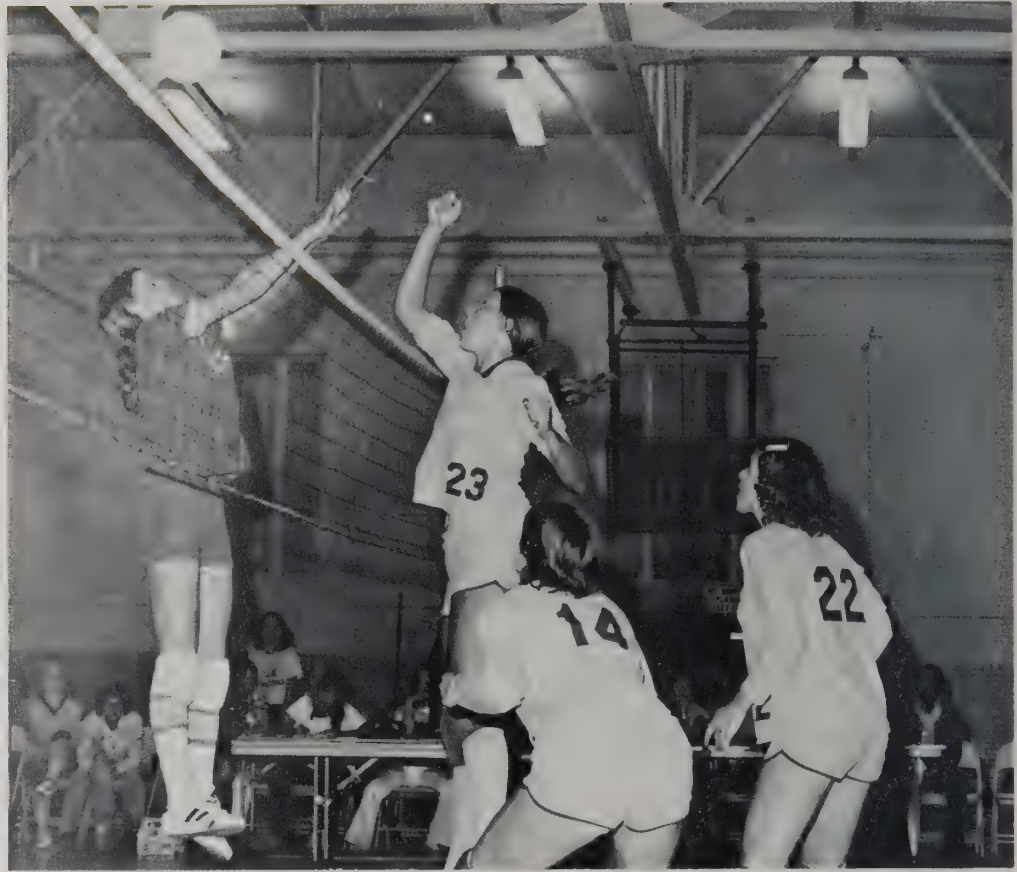

The school's first women's tennis team was fielded in the spring.

The six member squad competed in eight matches, including three home appearances, which led to the state tournament held in Ruston.

Cross Country Provides Early Distance Work

It was a repeat performance of the year before for SLU's cross country team, claiming third place at the Gulf South Conference meet for the second straight season.

SLU even trailed the same teams as last year with Troy State repeating as champions and Mississippi College as runners-up.

Liberally sprinkled with freshmen, the 1975 squad was paced by junior Bryan Murray's posting of a top time over a five mile course at 25:31, while finishing ninth in the GSC meet.

Ron Chauvin proved to be the top freshman among the four on the 1975 squad.

Coaching chores for the season were handled mostly by coach Larry Crow's graduate assistant, Steve Schoenwald, former distance runner at the University of South Alabama.

SLU Edged In Bid For Third Straight GSC Title

"The closeness of the meet gives a good indication of the improvement in the overall caliber of track in the Gulf South Conference," stated cinder coach Larry Crow after the Lions were edged out in their bid for a third consecutive title.

SLU tallied 156 pts. just shy of Miss. College's 162 pts. for first and runner-up Delta State's 159 pts.

"We received 100 percent mental and physical performances from our athletes. We took a total of 23 people and 19 of them scored," Crow pointed out.

Southeastern later claimed a 12th place finish in the NCAA Division II championship in Slippery Rock, Pa., despite injuries to some key personnel and competing in adverse weather.

"We have nothing to be ashamed of, we gave it our best effort and I'm proud of the performances," concluded Crow about the 1976 season.

Sprinter Ralph Smith turned in another spectacular season. SLU's top point producer with 88½ points had 10 first place wins along with record times of 9.35 in the 100 and 20.8 in the 220.

The Lions most versatile track and fieldman in '76 was Donald Dykes. Second in point totals with 74½, Dykes set new records in the long jump (24'11½") and triple jump (51'2").

Other top fieldmen included weightman C. A. Hill (39 pts.) and Phil Swett (37 pts.) in the javelin.

Greg Lawrence was cited for his GSC meet effort which included a 9.6-100, 21.6-220 and 14.2-120 hurdles.

SLU's top distance man was Bryan Murray who finished the season with 56 pts. Murray turned in "perhaps the best effort by a SLU distance man" at the GSC meet. He bettered his best times in the steeplechase, mile and three mile while scoring 20 points.

Joel Barber emerged as the Lions' top freshman setting a new school mark in the high jump, clearing 7'0" on two occasions.

Other top freshmen included sprinter Larry Scott and hurdler Kerry Wright, both figuring high in individual point totals.

Batting Marks Set As SLU Barely Misses Series

A 12th inning home run brought to close the 1976 Lion baseball season and ended the outstanding college career of nine seniors who hoped for "one last crack" at the college division World Series in Springfield, Ill.

That home run gave Livingston University a 5-4 win over SLU for the championship crown of the NCAA South Regional playoffs.

The double setback at the hands of LU, each defeat by the identical score, prevented SLU from making its second straight trip to the Series, closing the '76 season at 26-11.

"I hated for the season to end on that kind of note (the home run)," commented head coach George Lee. "Especially for our seniors who wanted another shot at the Series and who really deserved it after such a great season and college career."

Several single season and career marks highlighted the '76 stats.

Dale Halladay completed the campaign with a .406 batting average to surpass the old mark of .387 set in 1965 by Bobby Cotton.

Mike Lavin matched a 1964 record by Ernie Knobloch of 40 RBIs in one season while becoming the first SLU player ever to reach the century figure for a career with 108 RBIs. He also ranks fifth on the all-time list with 18 home runs.

Andy Davis compiled the best four-year batting mark ever with a

.332 average barely edging teammate Kevin Fogg who had a .331 mark.

Davis set a new mark for career hits (146) and stolen bases (64).

Kenny Lehrmann had the best pitching stats with an 8-1 record, 1.99 ERA and 63 strikeouts. Wayne Silva posted the most wins with a 9-3 ledger.

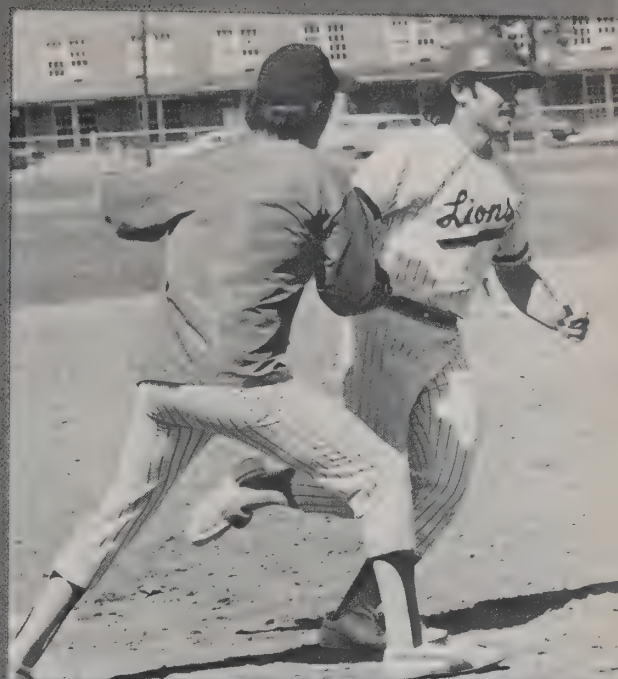

SLU's final record of 26-11 was the second highest win total ever by Lion baseball nine.

Southeastern had nine seniors on the '76 club, including Lavin, Davis, Fogg, Silva, Greg Renton, John Nelson, Fred Bullinger, Paul Schultz and Terry Beaver.

Golfer Earns GSC Honors As Lions Finish Fifth

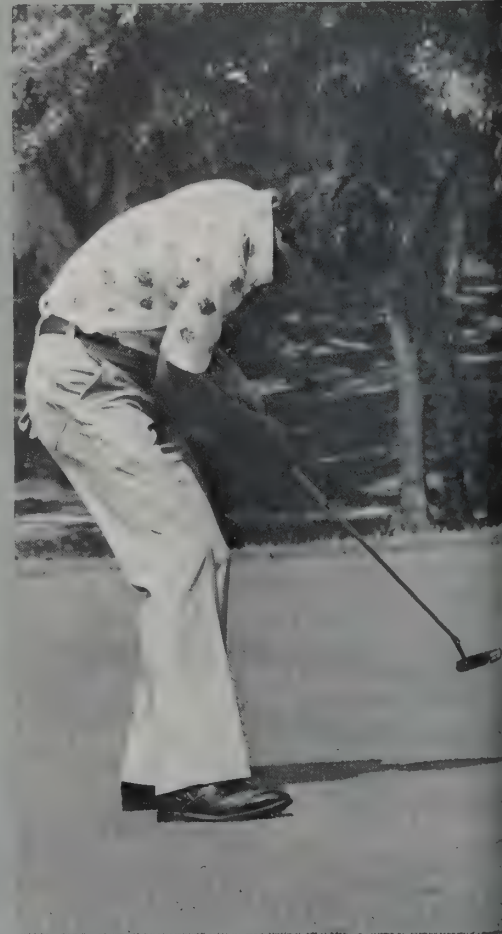

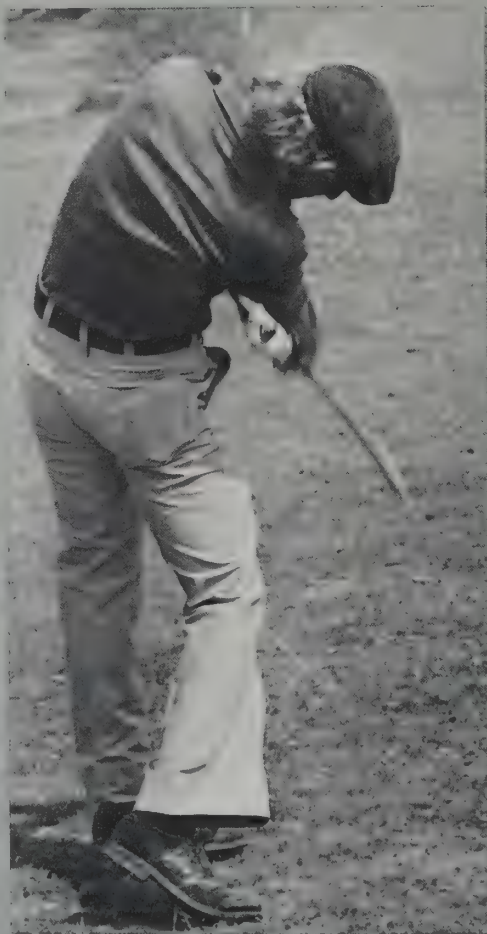

SLU's golfers, paced by Mike Parrish, moved up two notches after a second day surge to gain a fifth place finish in the 1976 Gulf South Conference tournament.

Parrish finished the 54-hole tournament five strokes off the pace of the top individual medalist with a 227 total for sixth place in the individual standings and an all-GSC position.

The 1976 golfers were paced most of the season by Francis Richard who ranked among the nation's top golfers the year before.

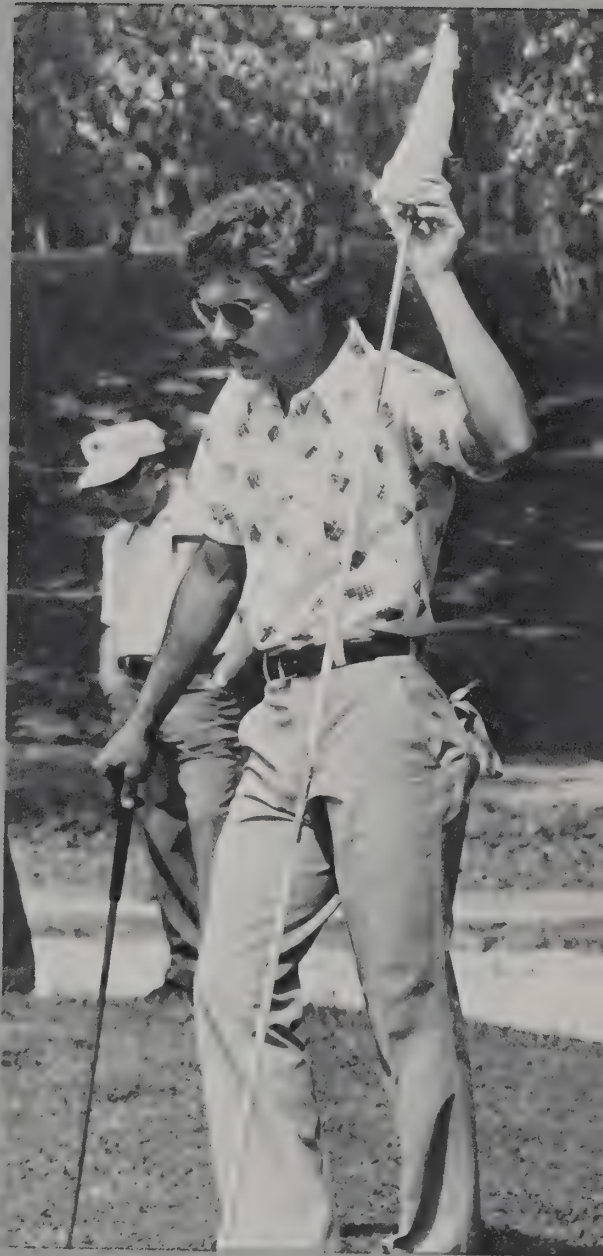

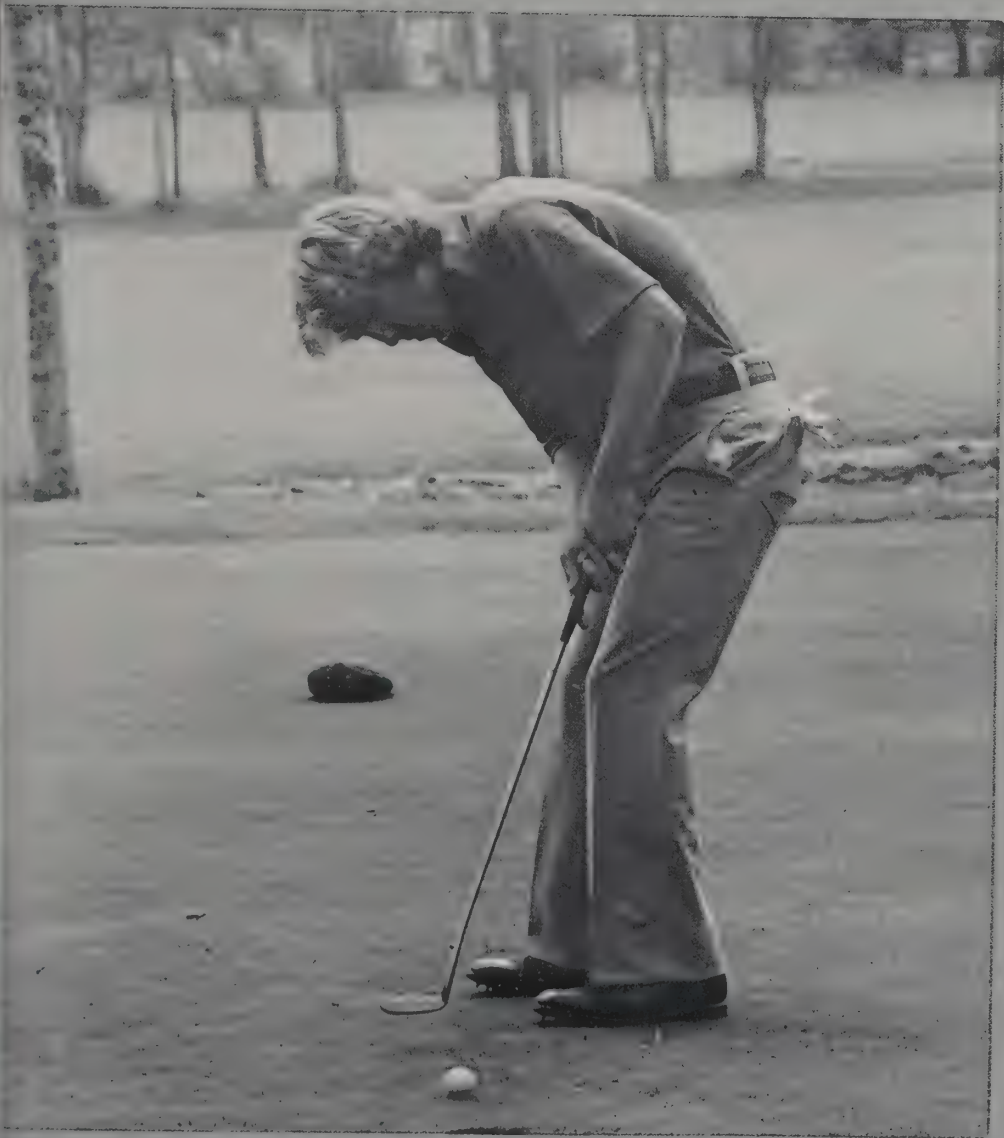

SLU's best team showing of the season was at the site of the GSC tourney, Ellendale Country Club, where it had placed second in the Nicholls State Invitational.

Impressive Tournament Showing Highlights Netters' 6-12 Season

An impressive second place finish in the Gulf South Conference tournament sparked by two championship honors highlighted the accomplishments of the 1976 tennis team.

SLU met conference champs, Nicholls State, in the five championship finals in which it played and claimed wins in the number four singles and number three doubles.

"I was most pleased with our overall performance and especially those who finished as winners," stated head coach Ken Magee.

Joe Selzer became the first SLU netter to claim a singles championship in the new GSC with an impressive 6-3, 6-2 win over Kuldip Singh.

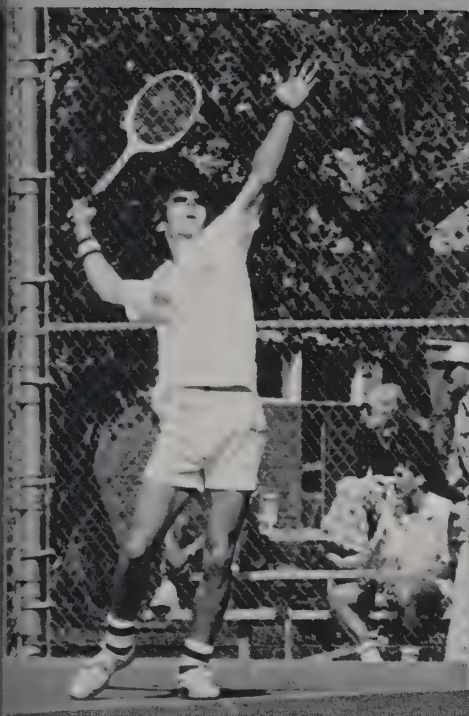

The team of Mike Cousin and Freddie Acosta used consecutive tiebreaker sets of 7-6, 7-6 over Ulf Erikson and Richardo Toro to claim the number two doubles.

Intramurals Extend Sportsmanship And Provide Competitive Recreation

Southeastern sponsors a comprehensive intramural program which fosters the positive qualities of sport.

Through the intramural program, hundreds of young collegians, both men and women, can compete in organized play. The program is designed to give even the non-athlete a chance to enjoy supervised sports.

Offered through the intramural program are table tennis, football, archery, tennis, basketball, badminton and softball.

Trophies are awarded winning teams and individuals.

Available for intramural sports are the Men's Gym facilities, tennis courts, the Student Union facilities and numerous large playing areas around the campus.

Those who participate enjoy the value afforded by team play, good sportsmanship and comradeship, and at the same time manage to stay somewhat better fit physically.

Kappa Delta Tau fraternity dominated men's team competition, winning the campus overall championship in football while taking top frat honors in softball, volleyball and "B" division of basketball.

Only two overall campus champs were crowned in the women's competition, the "Jazz" taking top honors in basketball and Hammond Hall winning volleyball.

Panhellenic Council

The Panhellenic Council is the governing and advisory body for all sororities at SLU.

Composed of delegates from each sorority, the council seeks: to maintain sorority life on a high plane; to encourage high scholastic standards; and to compile rules governing rush, pledging and initiation.

During the Fall Semester, the council hosted a visit of Mrs. Eleanor Slaughter, representative for the National Panhellenic Conference.

Miss S. L. U. Court

Members of the 1975 Miss Southeastern beauty pageant were: Ann Bentz, First Runner-Up; Theresa Coleman, Second Runner-Up; Rhonda Alessi, Third Runner-Up; and Allyn Meadows, Fourth Runner-Up. Ann Bentz won the Talent Award with a tap dance number to the tune, "Boogie Woogie Boy of Company B."

Miss S. L. U. And

Janice Irwin

Lovely Janice Irwin, a junior majoring in sociology, reigned as "Miss Southeastern" for 1975-76. The year was a banner one for the petite, brown-haired beauty who was also chosen by the student body to reign as "Homecoming Queen" and was later selected as 1976 Sugar Bowl Queen.

Miss Irwin, a graduate of Grace King High School in Metairie, is an active coed. A member of Alpha Omicron Pi social sorority, she served on the Junior Panhellenic; was vice-president of the Delta Tau Delta Little Sisters, served in Student Senate, and has been on the DTD Rainbow Court.

Her hobbies include piano playing, tennis, modeling, and campus activities.

Homecoming Queen

Homecoming Court

Six coeds were chosen by their fellow students in Student Government Association sponsored elections to serve on the 1975 Homecoming Court with Queen Janice Irwin.

Members of the court were Susan Barrett, Beryl Brannon, Joy Chambers, Marlene Hellmers, Ida Sonnier, and Patti Thompson.

Miss Brannon of New Orleans was freshman class sweetheart. Miss Chambers of Baton Rouge represented Theta Xi. Miss Hellmers of New Orleans represented Alpha Omicron Pi.

Miss Sonnier of Port Sulphur was Delta Tau Delta's entry in the Court. Miss Thompson of Metairie represented the junior class on the court.

The six members of the court were featured in the Annual Homecoming Parade and were honored in ceremonies at the days football game.

Academico

President Clea E. Parker

Dr. Clea E. Parker, Southeastern's president, is now in his ninth year of service to Southeastern.

During his tenure as president of the University, Dr. Parker has presided over some of the most dynamic years in the school's history.

Himself a graduate of Southeastern, Dr. Parker has maintained the University's image as "a friendly" place to gain a collegiate education. The president has promoted the "open door policy" towards students, faculty and staff. Student involvement in University decision making has been a hallmark of Dr. Parker's years of service.

Since assuming the presidency of Southeastern, Dr. Parker has helped guide the physical growth of the school. Many beautiful, functional buildings have been added to the campus during the past several years, and older facilities have been extensively improved.

Enrollments have risen to record peaks under Dr. Parker's leadership, and the faculty and curricula have been vastly improved to meet the new demands of the challenging 1970's.

 Zia, Irshad, Fr.; New Orleans

It was here that I found friends in faces from places that I had heard only existed. I felt a need to belong, and I discovered added meaning in day-to-day activities.

I searched for solutions to the unanswered and as my searching assumed many forms, so the answers came to me at different times and in unexpected ways.

It was here that I gained a little more maturity and a lot more insight into the lives of many people as well as into my own life. I learned much more than books could ever teach and I learned each man is himself a book if you only know how to read him.

I've lived another year, come a little further, grown a little taller and seen a bit more of life, as well as my fellow man.

Today I'm leaving someone, going somewhere, looking to the future. But regardless of how far I go or where life takes me in the years to come, I could never forget you.

So when I shall stop for a moment and wish to recall the days of those years gone by, I'll remember the days that I knew and spent with you, the laughter, the sweet taste of happiness, the countless memories . . . Then I will smile once again and say, "Yes, I remember when."
